

DATA PROTECTION AND PRIVACY NOTICE

Cursillo In Scotland (SC023418)

1. Your personal data – what is it? Personal data relates to a living individual who can be identified from that data. Identification can be by the information alone or in conjunction with any other information in the data controller’s possession or likely to come into such possession. The processing of personal data is governed by the General Data Protection Regulation 2016/679 (the “GDPR”).

2. Who are we? Members of The Secretariat of Cursillo in Scotland are each a data controller (contact details below). This means they each decide how your personal data is processed and for what purposes.

3. How do we process your personal data? The Secretariat of Cursillo in Scotland comply with their obligations under the GDPR by keeping personal data up to date; by storing and destroying it securely; by not collecting or retaining excessive amounts of data; by protecting personal data from loss, misuse, unauthorised access and disclosure and by ensuring that appropriate technical and organisational measures are in place to protect personal data.

The Secretariat use your personal data for the following purposes: -

- To administer membership records;
- To promote the interests of the charity;
- To manage our volunteers;
- To maintain our own accounts and records (including the processing of gift aid applications);
- To inform you of news, events, activities and services running through Cursillo in Scotland and in the broader Cursillo movement (eg British Anglican Cursillo Council);

4. What is the legal basis for processing your personal data?

Explicit consent of the data subject; This is so that we can keep you informed about news, events, activities and services and other events throughout Cursillo in Scotland via e-mail, telephone and text;

Processing is carried out by a not-for-profit body with a political, philosophical, religious or trade union aim provided: the processing relates only to members or former members (or those who have regular contact with it in connection with those purposes); and there is no disclosure to a third party without consent.

Processing is necessary for our legitimate interests. This means that we can process your personal data if (i) we have a genuine and legitimate reason; and (ii) are not harming any of your rights and interests. Our legitimate interests include: processing for the purposes of administration; processing your gift aid donations; fundraising; and sharing of news, events, activities and services running through Cursillo in Scotland and the broader Cursillo movement.

5. Sharing your personal data Your personal data will be treated as strictly confidential and will be shared only as set out in this section. Your personal data may be shared with members of the Secretariat and other members of Cursillo in Scotland. If you serve on any committee or take on any duty, rota or role within the Cursillo in Scotland, your personal data may be shared with other members of Cursillo in Scotland. You will be informed if your personal data will be shared more widely. We may also share your information or disclose it to third parties where required to comply with any court order or other legal obligation or when data is requested by government or law enforcement authorities, to enforce any agreements, or to protect the rights, property, or safety of members of Cursillo in Scotland.

6. How long do we keep your personal data? We keep data in accordance with the guidance provided by the Scottish Episcopal Church.

7. Your rights and your personal data Unless subject to an exemption under the GDPR, you have the following rights with respect to your personal data: -

- The right to request a copy of your personal data which Cursillo in Scotland holds about you;
- The right to request that the Secretariat of Cursillo in Scotland corrects any personal data if it is found to be inaccurate or out of date;
- The right to request your personal data is erased where it is no longer necessary for Cursillo in Scotland to retain such data;
- The right to withdraw your consent to the processing at any time
- The right to request that the data controller provide the data subject with his/her personal data and where possible, to transmit that data directly to another data controller, (known as the right to data portability), (where applicable) [Only applies where the processing is based on consent or is necessary for the performance of a contract with the data subject and in either case the data controller processes the data by automated means].
- The right, where there is a dispute in relation to the accuracy or processing of your personal data, to request a restriction is placed on further processing;
- The right to object to the processing of personal data, (where applicable) [Only applies where processing is based on legitimate interests (or the performance of a task in the public interest/exercise of official authority); direct marketing and processing for the purposes of scientific/historical research and statistics]
- The right to lodge a complaint with the Information Commissioner's Office

8. Further processing If we wish to use your personal data for a new purpose, not covered by this Data Protection Notice, then we will provide you with a new notice explaining this new use prior to commencing the processing and setting out the relevant purposes and processing conditions. Where and whenever necessary, we will seek your prior consent to the new processing.
